THE GENERAL DATA PROTECTION REGULATIONS (GDPR) 2016

The GDPR is a regulation in EU law on data protection and privacy for all individuals in the European Union. The Ascension with All Saints cannot store or use any personal data of members on the Electoral Roll unless we have received an unambiguous affirmation of consent from the individual. The individual has the right to revoke this consent at any time.

The appointment of a data protection officer is not a legal requirement for AwAS but the PCC has asked me to ensure we comply with the requirements of the regulation.

I should like to meet separately with every individual on our Electoral Roll and explain to you what data we have concerning you, how we will use that data, and how we will keep it safe. I shall then ask if you consent to these conditions and if you do I will ask you to sign a form to show that you agree. This form will be kept until the next revision of our Electoral Roll, but remember you have the right to revoke that consent at any time.

Many thanks for your cooperation.

Chris Beach.
